

Four faculty members, eight graduate students and six alumni will represent the School of Journalism and Communication, Chinese University of Hong Kong in the International Association for Media and Communication Research (IAMCR) annual conference in Dublin, 25-29 June 2013.

Together our faculty members, graduate students and alumni will present 11 authored or co-authored papers and serve on multiple panels as listed below:

CUHK faculty chair session

Fri. June 28, 2:00pm

Donna S. C. Chu

Chair Panel – Audiences, the economy and Gender

CUHK faculty speaker panel

Fri. June 28, 9:00am

Linchuan Jack Qiu

Speaker – Changing Geography of the Field: Crisis, Power Shifts and Alternative Constructs in Rethinking Communication Theory

Papers by CUHK faculty and students

Wed. June 26, 2:00pm

Louis Leung

A Panel Study on the Effects of Social Media Use and Internet Connectedness on Academic Performance and Social Support among Children and Adolescents

Zhikun Wang (MPhil student) & Yuping Zhang (PhD student)

Effects of Motivations of Weibo Use, Weibo Usage Pattern and Online Self disclosure at Weibo on Perceived Social Capital among College & University Students in China

Wed. June 26, 2:00pm

Xuan Wu (M.Sc. in New Media graduate) & Louis Leung:

Quality of Life and Internet Usage: An Examination of Motivations, Personality Traits, Media Use, and Leisure Activities among Low-income Internet Users in Urban China

Wed. June 26, 4:00pm

Mengyang Zhao, Junya Lin, Lizhu Yang, & Yingying Liu (M.Sc. in New Media Student)

The Effects of Weibo Use on Political Trust and Social Trust among College Students in Mainland China.

Lik-Sam Chan (MPhil student)

Genealogy, Discourses, and Revival of Creativity in the Context of Advertising Industry

Thu. June 27, 9:00am

Yan Luo (PhD student) & Hao Li (PhD student):

Impacts of Lifestyles, Trust, Motivation, Online Shopping Benefits and Satisfaction on Online Shopping Behavior

Thu. June 27, 2:00pm

Cindy Cheung-Kwan Chong (PhD student)

Who got to say what? Conflicting narratives and the construction of communal identity in Chinese minority newspapers in the Netherlands

Thu. June 27, 4:00pm

Yang Cheng (PhD Student) & Nicholas Chan (M.A. in Global Communication graduate)

The meaning of whiteness to people working in Chungking Mansions

Fri. June 28, 4:00pm

Xixi Quan (MPhil student)

Street Dance in Hong Kong - Incorporation by Space and the Place Making Practice.

Sat. June 29, 2:00pm

Keyi Xu (MPhil student)

Rumors, Put Them Out Or Let Them Be? A Study on How Sina Refutes Rumors on Micro-blogging Services

Fri. June 28, 2:00pm

Donna S. C. Chu

New Women, Old Control: Emergent gender stereotypes in Hong Kong